FAQ's

How long will my house sale take?

How long will it take from you accepting an offer until you complete the sale of your house will depends on a number of factors. The average process takes between 4-8 weeks. It can be quicker or slower, depending on the parties in the chain. For example, if your purchaser is purchasing with the aid of a mortgage it could take longer then if your purchaser were cash purchasers. However, if you are selling a leasehold apartment this can take significantly longer, between 8-12 weeks due to obtaining management company information. In such a situation additional charges would apply.

What are the stages of the process?

The precise stages involved in the sale of a residential property vary according to the circumstances. However, as a general overview the usual process is:

- Stage 1: Take your instructions and give you initial advice.
- Stage 2: Forward contractual documentation to your purchasers' solicitors.
- Stage 3: Respond to any enquiries raised by the purchaser's solicitors.
- Stage 4: Arrange for you to sign the final contract and transfer deed.
- Stage 5: Agree a completion date (date you will leave and sell the property)
- Stage 6: Obtain a redemption statement from your lender (if applicable)
- Stage 7: Exchange contracts after seeking your permission on the date of exchange to do so
- Stage 8: Complete sale and forward completion monies to yourself.

Additional fees and information.

1. Your conveyancer will charge a file storage fee of £40 + VAT for each transaction undertaken. This is to store your documentation for up to 6 years for your sales and purchase transactions, as required by their Regulator.
2. An electronic funds transfer administration fee of £36.00 (inclusive of VAT) will be incurred if redemption monies of balance of funds are to be sent by telegraphic transfer on a property sale or purchase.
3. If you are selling with a mortgage and additional charge of £90.00 + VAT is made for the legal work associated with repaying your mortgage. This will either be paid to your conveyancer or to another firm instructed by them on your behalf if your lender has a closed panel.
4. Our assumption is that the property is registered at H M Land Registry.
5. If you require your nominated solicitor to obtain a standard indemnity policy on your behalf for your property sale a further supplement of £50 + VAT is charged for the associated legal work.
